Brigham Young. VINITA, I. T., Oct. 12. President Grant, with Secretary Boone and General Harney arrived here this morning. The Cherokees turned out in large numbers, and in an address made in their behalf by Colonel Boudinot, he welcomed the party to this section, through which they were about to pass and which contained thirty thousand civilized Indians who had abardoned a wild life for more than one gener He expressed the confidence which the Cherokees, Choctaws, Chicka-saws and Creek Indians felt in the President's friendship for them and his regard for their interests evidenced in his annual messages. The President replied: It affords me pleasure to visit your beautiful country, which I have never seen before, though I have been on all sides of it. It is rich in soil and surpassingly beautiful. Without saying anything at this time about the policy which think should be adopted with regard to this territory, I will say that I am pleased with such evidences of advancement among you and hope you will be encouraged in cultivating the soil of so rich and magnificent a territory.

A ratification meeting at Virginia City, Nevada, Saturday night, was a great success. It called together the largest concourse of people ever gathered in that state. Over four thousand were present. DeLong addressed the meeting. Mr. Sharon was not well enough to respond. A letter from Senator Jones was read, endorsing the action of the Republican party and its nominations. Great enthusiasm was manifested. The campaign in the State is now fairly opened,

WASHINGTON, October 12. General Sickels' application for pay as Major General in the United States army, retired, to date from the time that his pay as minister to Spain ceased, has raised the question as to whether, under the law of 1870, retired officers, who accept civil offices, and take pay for such services, do not wholly vacate their military commission. General Sickels' application was referred to Attorney General Williams for an opinion, but that official has not yet taken action on the subject, he having delayed doing so under the impression that General Sickels might desire to file an argument in the case in support of his demand. The decison of the case will affect the position of Gen. Robinson, lieutenant-governor of New York and a major-general on the retired list; Adam Badeau, now consul-general at London, and others who now hold, or have held since 1870, civil LONDON, Oct. 12. The British Board of Deputies inerested in the Roumania question, are at a loss to understand the importance attached by the Associated Press in cobling the statement of the Bucharest correspondent of the Ail-gemeinr Zeitung in regard to Roumanin Jews. The hostility of this correspondent to Consul Peixotio's active endeavors to ameliorate the condition of the Jews in the principalities, has for a long time been well-known. The real news of importance in regard to Roumanian question is, intimation of the policy pursued by the American government. The British Secretary of State, the Earl of Derby, is now actively engaged with the Berlin Cabinet in perfect ing negotiations which will lead to permanent establishment of Jewish rights and interests in Roumania.
